Other Information:

You may encounter negative signs outside of Representatives' or Senators' offices regarding gender and/or bathroom use. It is recommended you research the people you will be meeting with to understand their stance on certain issues and make decisions for the meeting based on this information.

Remember though, there are also allies in the halls of these buildings, so be equally on the lookout for flags of support, or signs on Representatives or Senators' offices offering their private bathrooms as a gender-neutral option for your use.
